

invites you to attend

PISA

PATHOBIOLOGY FOR INVESTIGATORS,
STUDENTS, & ACADEMICIANS

Virtual & Interactive Meeting Experience

NOV. 9-13
2020

Pathobiology that Drives Discovery, Diagnosis, and Treatment of Human Diseases: Present and Future

Collaborate with life sciences professionals for 5 days of cutting-edge pathobiology collaborations

- engage with the scientific community
- from your home or lab
- flexible schedule
- LIVE and on-demand sessions

Members of Guest Societies register at ASIP member rates

Abstract Topic Categories

Disease | Breast Cancer | Cancer
Cell Injury and Repair | Epithelial and Mucosal
Pathobiology | Gut Microbiome and Disease | Infectious
Diseases | Inflammation & Immunity | Neuropathology
Pathobiology of Liver & Kidney | Pulmonary Pathology
Stem Cells and Regenerative Medicine

Register
NOW!

#PISA2020

Submit your latest research with exposure worldwide!

- Trainee Hangout
- Scientific Interest Group Meet-the-Expert events
- Advising sessions on a variety of topics
- Lunch with Pathobiology Stars
- Career development and education events
- Social Media Engagement
- Networking from around the world
- Abstracts Published online in The American Journal of Pathology
- CME Available
- Trainee Scholar Awards and Poster Awards Available

Registration to Meeting Includes:

- Access to the Scientific, Educational and Career Development, Special Interest and Trainee Advising Sessions (LIVE and On-Demand)
- 24-Hour access to pre-recorded poster presentations with asynchronous Q&A
- Conference app for desktop, laptop, and mobile devices
- Online and searchable access to accepted abstracts
- Online and searchable attendee directory
- LIVE and online technical support for the duration of the meeting

PISA20.ASIP.ORG

ASIPATH

See website for details

PISA20.ASIP.org/registration/registration-rates

ASIP.org/membership-community/join/